Sr. No.	Description
	The LLM Dissertation is a cornerstone of this research-intensive program. Students are required to undertake an independent study on a specialized topic from their chosen elective clusters, subject to approval by the Departmental Committee. The thesis must demonstrate a high degree of critical, analytical, and comparative inquiry into a contemporary legal issue. Candidates are expected to exhibit scholarly rigor through the extensive use of primary and secondary sources, including judicial precedents and academic literature, documented via standardized citation formats. The final submission must adhere to prescribed formatting guidelines and will undergo both internal and external evaluation, culminating in a mandatory viva-voce examination. Students are required to follow the systematic stages outlined below to complete their research and finalize their dissertation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Title of the Study</li> <li>- Introduction</li> <li>- Significance of the Study</li> <li>- Literature Review</li> <li>- Objectives of the Study</li> <li>- Hypothesis</li> </ul>
